

TEMPLE COLLEGE
TEMPLE, TEXAS

Physics Instructor

Minimum requirements – Master’s Degree in Physics or Master’s Degree with 18 graduate hours in Physics and two years directly related instructional work experience.

Duties – Duties are to teach lecture and lab courses in Physics and Astronomy. Physics courses will range from liberal art, low mathematics-based physics for science majors. Responsibilities will also include set up of laboratories, preparation of course syllabi, appropriate course materials, and exams. Maintain regular office hours. Serve on committees when elected or appointed. Cultivate healthy teacher-student relationships. Make written recommendations to the Department Chairman regarding curriculum additions, deletions or revisions. Make recommendations regarding course content, text selection and laboratory experimentation. May include instruction at satellite campuses

Preferences- Previous teaching experience in higher education.

Schedule and Start Date-This is a nine (9) month, tenure track contract position. Start date to be negotiated.

Salary–Salary is calculated from Temple College’s faculty salary schedule. Actual salary is dependent upon applicant’s education and work experience.

Deadline–Screening of applications will begin March 23, 2009. Position will remain open until filled.

Application Procedure- Letter of interest, completed Temple College application, resume or Curriculum Vitae, copies of college transcripts, and 3 names, addresses, and phone numbers of professional references are to be sent to:

Temple College
Office of Human Resources
2600 South First Street
Temple, TX 76504

Applicants are asked to include additional materials to support excellence in teaching.

Applications can be downloaded from the Temple College website at www.templejc.edu or picked up in the Office of Human Resources.

Incomplete applications or applications submitted without the above listed attachments will be returned to applicant.

Please contact the Office of Human Resources, 254-298-8582, for special needs or assistance regarding the application process.

Temple College is an AA/EEO Employer